Gilles Renouard

Founded in 1949 by the French state, Unifrance is an association that assures the promotion of French films abroad. With the ongoing support of its 650 members, including French film producers, directors, actors, talent agents, and sales agents, Unifrance works to maximize French cinema's cultural impact and enhance its economic growth abroad.

Unifrance organizes its own events dedicated to French cinema, focusing on selections of films and artistic delegations traveling to promote their work abroad. Unifrance supports French films at the major international film festivals. Unifrance explores new territories with commercial potential and consolidates new markets by working closely with its partners abroad, and by accompanying the theatrical release of French films, among other activities.

Margaret Menegoz has been Unifrance's President since June 2003. She was unanimously re-elected to this position in 2006.

Unifrance organizes festivals dedicated to French films in every continent. Most of these events are open to the general public. They allow the presentation of selected films, accompanied by artistic delegations, and provide opportunities for extensive media exposure. Unifrance events provide young talent with an international platform and the possibility of meeting local counterparts.

Screening

Jasper, voyage au bout du monde Jasper, Journey to the End of the World

Between the backdrops of the icy South Pole and a colourful harbour city unfolds the adventure of penguin brothers Jasper and Junior, who, with the help of 9 year old Emma, rescue the eggs of the rare Kakapo bird from the evil hands of mad Dr. Block.

Jasper's journey takes him and his brother deep into the Northern Hemisphere, to 'the end of world'. And the dramatic hunt for the stolen eggs of the Kakapo turns out to be a mere fragment in a much larger plan, in which the dubious manufacturer of a popular children's drink, Dr. Block, plays a major role. More than a mouthful for three birds who can't even fly ! Luckily for them, nine year old Emma comes to their aid. For her, this adventure is an ideal opportunity to prove to her father, the Captain of the ship, how good and clever she can be in the real world, after giving up the imaginary one full of non-existent 'friends', created to combat her loneliness aboard a ship without other children.

But before our group of newly found friends can form a successful working relationship, they must first cross the barriers of mistrust and pass tests of loyalty with flying colours.

Director: Eckart Fingberg

Taking up the challenge

of reconciling our passion for film with a true financial vision, EuropaCorp is a fully integrated studio that both produces and distributes feature films in France and worldwide.

Based on a model developed by Luc Besson and Pierre-Ange Le Pogam, the Group combines management of both the creative and artistic processes with the financial and commercial aspects of the film industry.

Since 1999, EuropaCorp has produced or coproduced and distributed nearly 60 films.

Management of the production chain and film distribution means that EuropaCorp can guarantee creativity and standards of quality throughout the film's lifecycle.

With a significant overseas presence (its largest market), EuropaCorp has developed important expertise in the production of English-language films with a strong potential to exploit the obvious worldwide market for these films.

EuropaCorp is one of the most prolific producers in France and Europe today and one of the few fully integrated independent studios.

Gaumont was born at the same time as the cinema itself: 112 years in the industry, serving the cinema and above all the movies.

Gaumont is a constantly evolving company: rich in tradition, but quick to adapt to changing times, understanding and responding to new advances as they happen.

Gaumont has always been a family-owned business: this is a part of our identity and one of our strengths.

The Gaumont movie heritage is managed with care, consolidating the film and newsreel archives, founding a museum and running a library with more than 800 titles. Jealously guarding the rights it owns and represents, Gaumont has built up France's second-ranking film library, with most titles being produced in-house.

Making movies is the core of Gaumont's business. Gaumont is ambitious, with an impressive raft of productions that represent a broad and balanced editorial policy. Around ten movies are produced annually in a variety of genres: feature, comedy, action, thrillers, plus English-language productions with wider international appeal.

When the life of Jean-Claude Van Damme collides with the reality of a hold-up in Brussels, Belgium, suddenly the huge movie star turns into an ordinary guy, filled with fears, contradictions and hopes. How can he be up to the legend he has built? What can a film hero do when the gun pointed to his temple isn't charged with blanks? JCVD finds himself at the turning point of his "hero" life. This film was imagined as a spiral adventure which starts off badly and which ends even worse. When external conquests, movies, cash and fame aren't worth anything compared to self-reconquest.

1912, in a little town North of Paris. Séraphine Louis, works as a maid for Madame Duphot, who rents an apartment to a German art critic and dealer, Wilhelm Uhde, an enthusiastic advocate of modern and "primitive" artists. In her spare time, Séraphine paints, with everything that comes to hand (wine, mud, fruits & flowers mixture). When Wilhelm comes across a small painting that she brought over a few days previously, he's mesmerized, snaps it up and insists that Séraphine show him the rest of her work...

La Sicilienne/The Sicilian Girl

Based on the true story of Rita Atria and the Judge Paolo Borsellino

« Rome, 1992. What I want after my death is a funeral with very few people. Just those who helped me do justice. My mother shall absolutely not be present nor be allowed to see me after my death... » Those are the words Rita Atria sealed in her diary. On November 5, 1991, the 17-year-old Sicilian girl appeared before the anti-mafia judge to avenge the murders of her father and brother, both members of La Cosa Nostra. For the first time, a young girl from a Mafia family breaks the law of silence. From that moment, her days are numbered. She will only have 9 months left to live.

Secret Défense/Secret of State*

Each and every day in our country, terrorist movements and intelligence services wage a merciless war in the name of diametrically opposed ideologies. Nevertheless, terrorists and secret agents alike lead almost the exact same life. Condemned to clandestinity, their manipulative strategies employ the exact same methods. Alex and Al Barad are two of them. One at the head of the Counter Espionage Unit of the DGSE (Directorate-General for External Security), and the other the leader of an Islamist network, they will clash, not hesitating to use the most deadly of all weapons: human beings. Secret of State follows their covert war through the destinies of Diane, a beautiful young student who joins the French Secret Service, and Pierre, a misfit who believes he's found his salvation in radical Islamism. Recruited, trained and indoctrined for missions beyond their understanding, they are both caught up in a fatal spiral from which there is no escape but death. Will they both be sacrificed in the name of their would-be "noble" causes?
